

Wisconsin Right to Life PAC Urges Preliminary Injunction in Federal Court of Law Funding State Supreme Court Races

Thursday, March 3, 2011

“The recent law passed in Wisconsin governing State Supreme Court races contains provisions which impinge on the right to free speech under the First Amendment,” stated Barbara Lyons, Executive Director of Wisconsin Right to Life. “Today, the Wisconsin Right to Life PAC preliminary injunction against the law prior to the April 5 general

Wisconsin Right to Life PAC and several other entities are asking the court to strike down provisions of the law which (1) instruct the state to award significant “rescue” funds to an opposing candidate if third party spending for a candidate exceeds a certain amount, (2) reporting requirements, and (3) campaign contribution limits.

“This is an important case to further efforts by Wisconsin Right to Life and its various entities to ensure that groups and individuals do not have their speech rights denied,” continued Lyons. “We look forward to a positive decision later this week or early next week.”
